Dear Mr. Mildenberg,

Thank you for being so generous in giving your personal support to our efforts to save the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island. And on behalf of the individual members of the Statue of Liberty--Ellis Island Commission, I am very proud to present you with your Certificate of Charter Membership.

I hope you will display your Certificate in a prominent place. I think your friends and associates should see the important contribution you have made to restore this nation's single most treasured symbol of our individual freedom.

Also, I have made arrangements to have your name officially entered into the Register of Contributors in the Statue's archives during the centennial festivities to be held in New York City on the Fourth of July, 1986.

During this national celebration many people from our country and around the world will visit the Statue. I and the Commission members believe it is important for them to know that you and other generous Americans have contributed personally to preserve this monument.

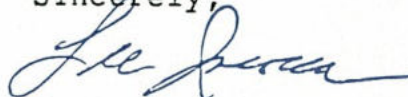

As your generosity proves, you understand the magnitude of the task we've undertaken to restore the Statue from top to bottom, inside and out, in order to preserve its future as our national symbol.

The only way we can possibly raise the $45 million needed to restore the Statue in time for the July 4, 1986, celebration is if I can ask you, as a Charter Member, to help in another special way.

If you know of a friend or associate who would like to become a Charter Member and give his or her financial support to this national campaign, please give your friend the special envelope that I have enclosed for you.

Again, thank you for becoming a Charter Member and sending such a generous contribution.

Sincerely,

Lee A. Iacocca
Chairman
Statue of Liberty--Ellis Island
Centennial Commission
